Dear Parents/carers,

As part of our topic 'Could you be a part of...New York, New York', we have been reading the book 'Holes' by Louis Sachar (an American author). Holes is one of those instant classics that adults, as well as children over eight, will thoroughly enjoy. Sachar has created something quite different from JK Rowling or Philip Pullman, but no less enchanting.

As part of our Literacy lessons, we are planning to watch the film adaptation of the story, so that we can compare the two and see how the film has changed the storyline. The film has been classified as a PG, so we are required to get permission from everyone's parents before we can show the children the film.

The criteria that makes the film a PG (violence, etc...) are all quite mild, and if you would like to read an in-depth explanation of why the film has been classified as such, please go to:

HOLES | British Board of Film Classification

We are really hoping that all the children will be able to take part in these lessons, but if you would prefer to withdraw your child please let us know before Friday 15th February 2019.

We thank you for your continued support and co-operation,

Mr Bandy, Mr Lewis and Mrs Glover
